GREAT INTEREST BEING SHOWN IN FAIRMONT GAME

Fairview Team Will Be Greatly Strengthened for Game.
Here November 24.

FAIRVIEW, Nov. 16.—What will be a true test of the Fairview High School's football team as gridiron warriors is the contest to be staged at South Side Park on Friday, November 24. No one realizes this more than Coach J. F. Copp and his football proteges.

Every effort is being made to wipe out the sting of defeat suffered at the hands of St. Marys last Saturday. Neither Mr. Copp nor the individual members of the team believe that the game played at the Ohio was in any measure a true test of the team's strength as with few exceptions all the players were physically unfit for the struggle. The team that lines up against Fairmont on November 24 will in every way be a better team than any that has represented the school this year. Some local fans are optimistic enough to believe and say that the locals will win from the Fairmont aggregation by at least one touchdown. While this is a great deal to expect from the team in its first season at the sport, yet they contend that it has necessary weight, speed and skill to land the contest even though against more experienced players. Should they succeed in taking Fairmont over for the count, the confidence gained would prove disastrous to Mannington's claim for supremacy. It is claimed, for Mannington could not assemble enough players to stop Underwood, Gump, Mason and Mauness in the last lap for county honors.

False Rumor.

According to an announcement made last evening no game has been scheduled with the Morgan town High School team for this season. Negotiations for a game to be played some time this week were under way but never materialized. A game may be arranged with the college town boys later in the season but because of several boys who could not practice this week on account of injuries, it was believed advisable to schedule no games this week-end.

First Step Made.

The first move toward opening the basketball season was made last night when Coach J. F. Copp, elected from the town council the local gymnasium for the coming basketball season. Practice will formally open some time in early December for both boys and girls. Not much is known as yet about the material for the boys' team, but Coach Copp will have to build up a team from practically unknown material. N. Michael, forward and captain, and Underwood, guard, are the only left-overs from last year's Monongahela Valley champions. While there is a wealth of good material in school this year, it is not known how many will be able to show the ability or inclination for a championship team. Maseo, Toothman, Mitchell and Macheo, who played last year's second string, Gump, McElroy and McCoy as newcomers, to the sport as well as Mauness and Dodd from last year's junior high team, should furnish some good material.

Girls Organizing.

An effort will be made to put out a winning girls' basketball team this year. With Dodd, two Underwood, Gump and Newman, who played last year with the team that swamped the Davis-Elkins College team to the tune of 14 to 1, as well as a third Underwood sister, Hanes and two Mitchell sisters from the junior high last year, the team bids fair to stop the winning streak of the Wheeling girls when they meet in state tournament next spring. Miss Alice Nones of the University of Chicago is coaching the girls and is confident of developing a team that will be favorably heard from before the close of the season. A game has already been scheduled with Masontown and an effort is being made to add Farmington, Riverdale, Monongalia and Mannington to the list.

Wilson Improving.

Abe Wilson who it is claimed was the most all around athlete in West Virginia high school circles last year, is improving very rapidly from a severe attack of typhoid fever. For weeks and weeks, little hope was held for his recovery, but in the last few days his recovery has been so rapid that his physician believes he will be able to attend school by the middle of December. While the eligibility rules will prevent his taking part in scholastic basketball games during the first semester, it is believed that he will be in good condition when the state tournament is staged.

Personals.

Gerald Carpenter and A. Ammons were transacting business in Barrackville yesterday.

Miss Ruth McCombs is at Philippi today attending the funeral of her sister who died Monday.

Miss O. Della Moore and Miss Christy left yesterday afternoon for Charleston where they will attend the State Educational Association meeting.

Mrs. Max Larimore recently underwent a major operation in Cook Hospital, Fairmont.

Chancellor Jones has recently purchased the Ammons plumbing shop on Main street.

Night classes in bookkeeping, penmanship, shorthand and typewriting have recently been organized by Dr. M. S. Harper, head of the commercial department in the local high school, and a large number of local people have enrolled in these classes.

PUNTS AND PASSES

As we saw it Wingate would have made a safety as he fooled around with the ball a bit in front of the goal line and the impetus would have come from his own mislay rather than from the kick.

Yes, Spears.

E. K. Hall of Dartmouth, chairman of the football rules committee, yesterday, came to bat with an All Time eleven for the Green He names it as follows: Ends, Schildmiller, '09, and Bankhart, '04; tackles, Neidlinger, '23, and Englehorn, '14; guards, Spears, '17, and Tobin, '10; center, Hooper, '04; quarterback, Glaze, '08; halfbacks, Marks, '10; Hawley, '09, and MacAndrews, '08; fullback, Robertson, '21. All except three of these were first choices of Walter Camp on his All America team.

It will be noted that Hall gave a signal honor to "Fudge" Neidlinger, tackle, on the present Dartmouth eleven, and brother of "Flash" of Yale. Robertson, who starred last season, is the only other player of the last five years named by Hall. Ralph Glaze will be remembered as one of the greatest quarterbacks of all time, a football star and a fine baseball player, too.

FARMINGTON HIGH TEACHER TO SPEAK

FARMINGTON, Nov. 16.—Farmington High School has been signally honored in that one of its teachers has been asked to take part in the program of the State Educational Association now meeting in Charleston. Mrs. A. M. Foose is to appear on the program to give a talk upon "What a Girl Should Know When She Has Completed One Term in Applied Art." Mrs. Foose is considered well qualified to discuss this subject, having just last year completed the home economics course at West Virginia University, and having previously had three years of experience in teaching home economics.

Farmington is one of the three or four high schools in the state with a vocational home economics course. Before a school can qualify for a vocational course, the teacher must be particularly well trained for her work. The fact that Mrs. Foose was selected to appear upon the State Educational Association this year is due partly to the fact that she is a teacher in a school where vocational home economics is a fixture.

Vocational home economics differs from the usual home economics courses in high schools in that the work develops a closer connection between the home and the school work. It deals more with the practical problems of home making, rather than the mere work of sewing and cooking. The proper diets are studied along with the cooking, and in sewing, the girls are taught not only how to make the various kinds of stitches, but to be able to tell wool from imitation, and to distinguish between artificial goods and those which are not. Home decoration is also taught, as well as home nursing.

When the vocational side of the course was first considered here, many parents objected to the course in home nursing on the grounds that it would make their daughters want to become nurses. This, however, proved misconception. Home nursing does not deal with the same problems as a course in nursing. A better name for the course would perhaps be home sanitation, for that is what it deals with largely.

The work of vocational home economics does not end with the closing of school in May, however. It continues for about a month more, during which time the students carry on various projects in their own homes under the supervision of the teacher.

Mrs. Foose left here for Charleston Tuesday afternoon and will return Friday in time to meet her classes on that day. In the meantime, a substitute has been secured to carry on her work here while she is away.

BEZDEK STILL UNDECIDED.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 16.—Hugo Bezdek of Penn State College probably will decide by next Saturday whether he will accept the position as manager of the Philadelphia National League baseball team, according to announcement made here today.

Penn State will meet the University of Pennsylvania in their annual football contest next Saturday.

NEW BILL SCORES HIT AT BLUE RIDGE

Many Entertaining Moments for Patrons in Acts Being Staged.

"By Appointment," a bit of vaudeville comedy and song offered by J. Frank Holliday and Miss Willette, constitutes the initial attraction of today's bill at the Blue Ridge Theatre. Miss Willette, an entertaining character, portrays the part of a beguiling widow, Frank Holliday, the second number of this clever act, characterizes the part of a cop in a mirth-provoking manner. The comedy "By Appointment," is a bright original piece and the interpreters reflect credit on its worth. The whole contributes genuine gaiety and novelty to the program.

Antoinette and Monica, the entertainers in a musical feature of the program, are two graceful girls, who entered the vaudeville field after a tremendous success upon the intercollegiate concert courses throughout the middle west and the New England states. After graduating from the New England Conservatory of Music the two girls determined to enter the vaudeville field where they have been met with success and approbation. Miss Antoinette possesses a pleasing mezzo-contralto voice and executes her song selections with infinite skill. Miss Monica's rendition of violin selections has already gained her recognition among America's foremost violinists. The program they offer incorporates unusual voices and violin harmony interspersed with voice, piano and violin solos. The presentation of the skill of Kara, the eccentric European juggler, is another feature of today's bill at the Blue Ridge. Kara recently arrived in this country to amuse the American audiences with his humorous manipulation of various articles. In foreign music halls he is considered the peer of jugglers. However, his specialties really come from the strict classification of a juggler. He is a comedian. His fun is based upon his dexterity and his strives and succeeds in obtaining a laugh for each one of his difficult feats. His present tour is limited, the performer being engaged in a trip around the world at present, the United States being one of the stopping places.

Sweet and Hill, interesting performers in an act provoking approbation, present their program previous to the presentation of the feature picture, "The Ordeal" with Agnes Ayres, cast as the leading woman.

BROBST SHINES IN NEW ATHLETIC ROLE

By LARRY

George Brobst is doing a lot of growing today. Last night his Diamonds defeated Dr. H. L. Satterfield's Hardknots in a series of volleyball games at the Y. M. C. A. George says "It is too cold for tennis, but that he is just as big a star at volleyball, which will keep him in the limelight during the winter months. The business men's gymnasium classes at the Y are being well attended and a number of volleyball and basketball members of the classes.

Tomorrow night the bowling alleys will be opened for the winter season, and this will be one of the big sports at the Y. M. C. A. from now on. It is expected to organize a league or two in a short time. The bowling privilege will be extended only to members of the Y. M. C. A.

MAJOR LEAGUE PLAYERS BANNED IN WINTER SPORT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 16.—Major league baseball players cannot play in winter league teams in California or elsewhere, even though they receive no compensation, it has been held by Baseball Commissioner Landis, according to a telegram received by City Manager Clyde L. Sivey, of Sacramento. Sivey had telegraphed Mr. Landis, asking if the baseball winter league, which is a municipal affair, could play Elwood Wirth of the Chicago Nationals. The telegram stated that neither Wirth nor any other player would receive any form of compensation.

OPPOSES DRAFT SYSTEM

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Opposition to restoration of the draft system in baseball was expressed again by W. H. McCarthy, San Francisco, president of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, before he left today for the annual meeting of the minor association in Louisville, Ky.

President McCarthy issued a statement in connection with a report that K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, favored the return of the draft.

NOVEMBER 16.

Scorpio children are very fond of luxurious surroundings. They should be taught simplicity in all things, and carefully watched as to emotional and passionate habits. This field is worthy the most patient and persistent working.

These children are generally so bright, so apt, so quick to separate the good from the bad, the true from the false, when properly trained and directed that they can be saved a great deal of after misery and shame by wise instruction in the very early years.

The governing sign of this date is Scorpio, the sign of the Scorpion, and the middle sign of the Water Triplet. The governing planet is Mars, God of Wars, and the birthstone is a topaz. The astral colors are golden brown and black.
